

BPCL Statement on Legal Metrology Inspection of Bharatgas LPG Bottling Plants in Karnataka

Karnataka, September 30, 2026: Bharat Petroleum Corporation Limited (BPCL) would like to clarify that all four of its Bharatgas LPG bottling plants in Karnataka — Bengaluru, Mangaluru, Dharwad and Kalaburagi — were inspected by the Legal Metrology Department as part of its verification exercise.

The inspection covered the filling accuracy of LPG cylinders at all four Bharatgas bottling plants, and the cylinders checked were found to be within the permissible limits prescribed by the authorities.

The findings reaffirm the consistency of Bharatgas' filling processes and the robust quality checks followed across its LPG bottling operations. These practices are an integral part of Bharatgas' 'Zero Ka Dum' initiative, which reinforces the company's focus on quality, filling accuracy and customer safety.

Bharatgas continues to follow stringent quality, safety and operational protocols across its bottling facilities, with regular checks at multiple stages to maintain the highest standards of customer assurance.
